Toledo Ready to Open Museum of Art

THE TOLEDO MUSEUM OF ART.

Splendid Exhibition Arranged for the Dedication of Building for Which 20,000 Persons Gave Money.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.]
TOLEDO, Ohio, Sunday.—With a memorial exhibition of works of Josef Israels, the new Toledo Museum of Art will be opened on January 17. Many artists and officials of museums in all parts of the country will participate in the ceremonies.

Second Section of Hoe Library on Sale To-Day

Foreign Buyers Arrive to Vie with American Bidders for Rare Books and Manuscripts.

All is ready for the sale of the second part of the library of the late Robert Hoe, and it will be begun this afternoon in the galleries of the Anderson Auction Company, at Madison avenue and Fortieth street. The books have been on exhibition for several weeks in a loft building opposite the main gallery.

The disposal of the first part of the library yielded the enormous sum of $757,363. The second sale, at which another portion of the library will be sold, is said to be scarcely less in interest and importance than the first, and, as did the first, it has brought to New York expert buyers from all parts of the United States and Europe. Mr. Bernard Quaritch, of London, who has been the first to arrive, Mr. C. Lang, of Rome, Italy; Mr. Paul Gottschalk, of Berlin; Mr. E. Eismann, representing Baer & Co., of Frankfurt, Germany, to which the most redoubtable of the Hoe belongs, are already here.

Mme. Belin To Be Here.
Among those expected are Mme. Theophile Belin, of Paris, and Mr. B. Bagge, of London. Mme. Belin is one of the best known experts in mediaeval manuscripts and bindings in the world. There also will be present such American dealers as Mr. George D. Smith, of this city, who bought extensively last winter for Mr. Henry E. Huntington. Other bidders will be sellers of rare books, including Mr. J. H. St. Louis, Boston, Providence and other American cities who will bid either for their own stock or to execute the commissions of wealthy customers.

One of the most sensational sales of the century, to which the late Robert Hoe, collector from Chicago acquired the famous Book of the Swan.

When the gavel of the auctioneer falls at half-past two o'clock this afternoon there will have been gathered a potential bidding activity amounting to millions of dollars. Seats have been assigned and the sale has been staged in the theatrelike salesroom at the top of the house.

There are ornately illuminated books of the hours, several missals of unusual beauty and many works of distinction in the 100 manuscripts in the present catalogue.

Famous Old Books.
Among the incunabula are a Gutenberg Bible printed on paper which, although not so valuable as the one on vellum sold last year, is from the same type and is a fine example of typography; a Catholicon, also from the Gutenberg Press; a first edition of Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales," printed by Caxton, and the "Lives of the Fathers," by Hieronymus, from the press of Wynkyn de Worde, one of the first printers of all time.

There will also be many fine specimens of the "Golden Age" of the book, including a Queen Elizabeth's Prayer Book, a first edition of Milton's "Paradise Lost," and many important works on both English and French literature.

The illustrated catalogue of 333 pages records 363 lots in this division of the library.

During the sale of the Hoe collection the art furnishings from the house lately occupied by Miss Emily Griggs will be on exhibition in the same galleries. Many of the pictures are hung on the walls of the room where the books are to be sold, and throughout the building are other objects from her collection.

Mr. Perry Belmont in Newport.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.]
NEWPORT, R. I., Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont arrived to-night at the Muenchinger-King from Washington to attend the funeral of Mr. Belmont's aunt, Mrs. George Tiffany, to-morrow. They expect to spend part of next summer here, as they will not go abroad, as Mr. Belmont will attend the democratic convention.

TALL CANDLES SHED THEIR RAYS OVER MR. ROBINSON'S DINNER

Modern-Lights Give Way to Those of Past Decades When He Entertains Three Dozen Friends in the St. Regis.

Mr. Moncure Robinson, who gave a dinner in the Hotel St. Regis several weeks ago, when his friends surprised him by producing a menu card brightened by jokes on him and his guests, gave another dinner there last night. This time his friends left his plans alone. To obtain a new atmosphere for the dinner Mr. Robinson reproduced an old one. Abandoning electricity and gas and even kerosene as illuminants, he went back to the days of candles, and the table was lighted with tall wax candles, set in high silver candlesticks. The dinner was served in the Louis XVI dining room, and the table was decorated with Killarney roses and asparagus ferns.

Colonel and Mrs. William Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hastings, the Duchess de Chaulnes, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, Miss Kathleen Beraford, Mrs. John R. Drekel, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Iselin, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rogers Whitworth, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Livermore, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cushing, Mrs. Sidney Dillon Ripley, Mrs. Charles H. Marshall, Mr. J. Fred Pearson, Jr., Mr. Stanley Mortimer, Miss Evelyn Burden, Miss Wilberg, Miss Beatrice Benet Duke de Richelieu, Duke de Valombrosa, Messrs. Craig Wadsworth, William Hude Nelson, Theodore A. Heymeyer, Sherman Day and Bertram Cruger. From the dinner most of the party went to a musicale which Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., gave at her home.

NOTES FROM PROVIDENCE.

Guests There from Other Cities—Residents Visiting Friends.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.]

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sunday.—Mrs. William Grosvenor went to New York today to spend week or more with Mrs. Gustav Amick.

Mrs. Louis Buckner and Miss Davis, of Louisville, Ky., are here as guests of their sister, Mrs. George C. Nightingale. Miss Rosamond Burr, of New York, is here as the guest of Miss Rose P. Grosvenor.

Mr. Howard Sturges will depart for Europe by the Lusitania on Wednesday. Miss Hope Hodgeman is visiting friends in Washington.

Mrs. David S. Baker, who has been in Florida several weeks, arrived in Providence yesterday and is with her daughter, Mrs. Frank L. Hinckley. Miss Gladys Baker, who has just returned from Buffalo, also is here.

Mr. Daniel R. Case and the Misses Anna and Eleanor Case closed their house in Bristol yesterday and are occupying a house in Lloyd avenue for the winter.

Miss Primrose Colt gave a dinner at her home on Saturday for those who are to attend her at her wedding on January 12, and at the same hour her fiancé, Mr. Andrew W. Anthony, will entertain his guests and best man at a dinner at the Puritan Club in Boston.

Mrs. Richard Jackson Barker, who was at the Marlborough-Blenheim, in Atlantic City, has gone to Philadelphia.

Luncheon for Bridal Party.

Mrs. John Henry Brecken, of No. 84 Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, gave a luncheon on Friday in the Hotel Bossert for Miss A. Bell Lanning, who will be married to Dr. Philip Embury Smith on January 23. Pink was the color of the table decorations, and for favors there

Havana Grets Snow Covered, Lakewood Turns to Winter Sport

Native Society, Officials and Visitors Assemble in Gardens at the Miramar on New Year's Night.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE HERALD.]

HAVANA, Cuba, January 1, 1912.—Havana welcomed the new year with ringing bells and blating whistles, and out in the gardens at the Hotel Miramar, with champagne cups uplifted to a complacent moon. The day had been perfect. In the afternoon crowds thronged Camp Columbia to watch aviators in flight, and around the hangars automobiles congregated. The feature was Mr. Charles Walsh's flight with Miss Delphine Bradt, of Chattanooga, Tenn., as a passenger. As the aeroplane soared above the rim of the gulf and back the crowds cheered and Miss Bradt's little white shoes twinkled a response.

The Miramar was a rendezvous for dinner. The outer yard was jammed with automobiles and carriages. All the tables in the kiosks had been engaged, and their decorations of pink roses glowed under the lights. Other tables were set under the trees, and even in the open. When the myriad colored lights which illuminate the gardens were turned off as the moving pictures came on the screen the diners had the novel experience of continuing their meal by tropic moonlight, broken, if at all, only by the waving shadows of celia leaves on the white linen.

Among the diners were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rodriguez, Miss Regina Rodriguez, Mr. George P. Seeley, Mr. Norman B. Coster, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brewster Stevens, Countess de Montmela, Miss Hazel Patrick, Mr. Edward Gustave Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan, whose sister, Mrs. Hanna is. Slighs Supplant Automobiles on Land and Ice Is Swept by Skaters and Hockey Players.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.]

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Sunday.—Winter's grip, which seized Lakewood with icy hand on Thursday, was loosened slightly to-day. The temperature rose gradually from ten to twenty points above the zero mark, but this concession to comfort was only temporary, for there was a further drop of the mercury to-night. To-morrow is not likely to end the cold wave. In fact, local weather prophets forecast a heavy snow storm.

Snow fell early this morning, covering the ground to the depth of four inches. The pine trees are laden with icy burdens, making the scenery picturesque. The snow has put most of the automobiles out of commission and the merry throng of sleigh bells is heard on all sides. Many men and women, heavily muffled and much be-turled, spent the day diving, while others diverted themselves by skating on Lake Carasallo. Most of the winter colony was skating. The snow was brushed off the ice by a band of willing volunteers, and hockey, curling and fancy skating contests were held.

Visitors are arriving in large numbers, many to remain for the winter and others on tours. Mr. George W. Boyd, general passenger agent of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, was at the Lakewood-Pines yesterday and to-day. He went to New York by special train to-night. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Caroline Noyes, who came with him, will remain at the Lakewood-Pines indefinitely.

To-day's arrivals from New York and Brooklyn included—
Laurel House—Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Neemith, Mr. Albert E. Gallatin, Mrs. H. A. Baldwin, Miss Mary Baldwin, Mr. Philip Rindelsander, Mr. Frank Tifford, Mrs. J. Walter Thompson, Mr. Roosevelt Thompson, Mrs. Edward DeRose, Miss Rose DeRose, Mrs. Fremstad.

Laurel-in-the-Pines—Mrs. Gordon Albert, Mr. J. Harper Poor, Mrs. William B. Briatow, Mrs. M. L. Kaufman, Mr. Frederick Rodgers, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. Jourdan, Miss N. H. Jourdan, Mr. John Young, Mrs. F. B. Fiske, Miss Louise Fiske, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Watson, Mrs. S. M. Goldsmith, Mrs. E. J. Craghton, Dr. Newton Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Greer, Mr. H. S. Brill, Miss Edith C. Brill, Mr. W. H. Good and Mr. Maxwell Lester.

Lakewood Hotel—Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Craghton, Mr. Leopold Wormser, Mr. J. J. Lesser, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Strook, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stock, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cashman and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rosenthal.

Not Polite as the Neighbors.
Catholic Standard and Times—Mrs. Nedder—Professor Adagio called at our house yesterday and my daughter played the piano for him. He just raved over her playing.

Mrs. Peppay—How rude! Why couldn't he conceal his feelings the way the rest of us do?

The Matrimonial Strain.
Judge—"In our country, where can one really and the cream of society?" asked Miss Blase.
"In Reno, of course, where society goes through the separator," replied the lady.

The Difference.
Toledo Blade.—Customer—How much for that suit of clothes, if I pay cash?
Tailor—Forty dollars.
Customer—How much on credit?
Tailor—Eighty dollars, half of it down.

A Contrary Child.
Washington Herald—"How very unreasonable baby is."
"As to how?"
"According to the thermometer, the water is just right for his bath, and yet he persists in turning blue."

Hymn Music.
To write a good modern hymn.
He struggled and scribbled with 'ymn; But he put not a bit Of waltz time in it. And so his success was but a ymn!

It is a good enough thing to have on hand."

Noncommittal.
Baltimore American—"What are the good resolutions you are going to keep?"
I am not going to give them away."

Experienced.
Baltimore American—"Young Wife—Do you think it is justifiable for a wife to take money from her husband's pockets?"
